The Union Depot. The union depot scheme is not dead, nor sleeping very soundly," said a member of the company yesterday to THE BEE. The members of the company yesterday were interrogated. "There is but little probability that such work will be done on the structure this fall, however, but the depot will be built as surely as the sun shines. There are only a few minor difficulties in the way, and it will take time rather than spacial activity to surmount them. The prime one is the delay in getting the necessary financial means of the roads interested in the project. They have been very scattered all over, and there has not been a single road in this city which they have been in contact with.

Mr. Kimball, president of the Union Pacific has been away nearly all the time since our last meeting and since his return he has been kept close at home by sickness and has not been able to get out and see the world.
